7-quart 230-volt Mirage® countertop induction rethermalizer in red with Schuko plug

The Mirage countertop induction rethermalizer by Vollrath makes it easier than ever to heat and serve food at safe temperatures. Sensors monitor food temperatures at three points on the inset, and an indicator light notifies you when the contents need to be stirred, helping to evenly distribute heat and prevent burning. Induction heating does not require water, ensuring faster heating times and better temperature control. This unit won't provide heat until an induction-ready inset is placed inside to reduce energy waste. The versatile digital controls have four convenient presets or precise temperature settings in °F or °C, depending on your preference. This exceptional product comes with a Vollrath induction-ready inset and top contemporary design inset cover, providing everything you need for operation, and the natural finish creates a sleek look.
