Top Line stockpot 20 centimeter stainless steel induction-ready in satin finish

The finest culinary creations deserve the highest-quality cookware, and that's exactly what the Top Line stockpot by Pujadas delivers. Sleek and smooth, this stockpot combines its upscale design with a satin finish for a classy, elegant appearance. It's made of 18/10-grade stainless steel, which provides impressive durability and longevity. The sandwich base features an aluminum core for fast, even heating, induction compatibility and exceptional energy efficiency. The strong loop handles are heat-resistant, so they stay cool and comfortable, while the lip on the edge of the pot ensures a smooth pouring experience. Whether you want to make stock, broth, soup or something else, this NSF-certified Top Line stockpot will help you prepare your best batch yet. It's perfect for your gas, electric, vitroceramic or induction range.
