Mesh Conical Colander 35 cm

The mesh conical colander is an essential kitchen tool crafted from high-quality stainless steel, specifically designed to withstand intensive use in busy kitchens. The fine mesh design allows for optimal drainage while retaining small particles, ensuring that your ingredients are perfectly prepared without losing any. Its conical shape promotes efficient water flow, making it easy to rinse and drain your items thoroughly. The durable stainless steel construction not only ensures longevity but also resists corrosion, making it ideal for frequent use.
